Welcome to The Maritime City

We're glad you've found us—now, we invite you to get to know us! In a town big enough to have everything you'd want or need, but small enough that you feel you belong, Gig Harbor blends rich history, stunning natural beauty, and a warm, welcoming community.

Tucked off Highway 16 just across the Tacoma Narrows Bridge and only a few miles west of I-5, this vibrant town is full of big-city amenities and old-world charm. To the northeast, the city of Seattle is an hour's drive away, and Sea-Tac International only 45 minutes. To the west, the Olympic Peninsula, with its striking peaks and rugged coastline, offers unparalleled natural beauty and outdoor opportunities. It is truly the best of all worlds!

Gig Harbor's history is deeply rooted in our maritime past. Named after a small captain's gig that first entered the harbor in 1841, the town grew into a bustling fishing village and boatbuilding center. Building on the contributions of the region's original native populations, many of the subsequent settlers were Croatian immigrants, and their influence can still be felt in the town's strong fishing traditions and vibrant maritime culture. This heritage is preserved in places like the Harbor History Museum, where visitors can learn about the town's seafaring past, explore historic exhibits, and see the restored Shenandoah, a classic fishing vessel.

Today, Gig Harbor retains much of its small-town charm, while offering modern amenities and easy access to transportation hubs and larger urban centers. The scenic downtown area is a delight to explore, with its locally owned shops, art galleries, and waterfront restaurants. Whether you're looking for unique boutiques or a cozy café with a view, there's something for everyone to enjoy. Along the waterfront, visitors can admire the stunning views of Mount Rainier, take a leisurely stroll along Jerisich Dock, or simply relax and watch the boats bob in the marina. It's a great time to be in Gig Harbor, where history and progress walk hand and hand!

Temperate climate. World-class recreation. A thriving business community. Growing economic development. State-of-the-art medical facilities and services. Top-quality schools. Dynamic retirement opportunities. Active residents who care passionately about their community. These are just a few of the reasons to visit, live, and do business in Gig Harbor. In fact, Smithsonian Magazine ranked it one of the five Best Small Towns in America!

Whether you're here to visit, do business, or make your home, the Gig Harbor Chamber of Commerce and the City of Gig Harbor welcome you, and invite you to linger. Whether you're drawn here for our rich maritime history, outdoor adventures, business opportunities, or simply the peaceful waterfront atmosphere, we are confident our city has something for everyone! ♦

O'Looney's Irish Pub, located just off Highway 16 across from The Inn at Gig Harbor, is not only beloved for its authentic Irish pub fare, beer selection, and extensive whiskey collection (the biggest in Gig Harbor, in fact)—it's also a destination for lovers of live music. With its dark wood furnishings, stone fireplace, and casual dining space that feels spacious yet cozy, O'Looney's is the perfect place to settle in for a few hours and hear the area's most talented artists jam the night away.

Nearly every night, you're bound to stumble upon the musical stylings of some fantastic solo artist or band. And it's not just Irish music: with a rotating

And if your favorite art form is pub trivia, be sure to stop by on Tuesday for a battle of wits! ♦

Zog's

The delightfully laid-back community of Fox Island is one of Gig Harbor's best-hidden secrets. While it feels like a different world, Fox Island is just five miles south of downtown Gig Harbor, making it a breeze to get to—and yes, it's a real island! If you're lucky enough to find yourself there, be sure to make time for a stop at Zog's Pub.

Founded in 2014, Zog's is a beloved neighborhood gathering space known for its food, drinks, and atmosphere. Its rotating beverage selection showcases the best of Washington's offerings, and its attractive, cozy outdoor space is the best spot in town to unwind from the week. As if that weren't enough, Zog's is also a fantastic spot to catch some live music!

"Two to three times a month," says Andrew Herzog, owner, "we host local artists who come to play for our patrons. We typically lean toward older classic rock and some country." A scroll through Zog's Instagram feed shows just how popular and energetic these gatherings are. The pub has a unique setup for staging shows: artists perform in a covered gazebo while the audience watches from above, creating the effect of a mini amphitheater. Complete with firepits, a waterfall that runs through the venue, ample indoor seating, and plenty of space to mingle, Zog's is a place that entertains in style!

Zog's is located at the Fox Island Grocery & Deli just off Island Boulevard. Visit them from 3:00–10:00 p.m. on weekdays and 12:00–10:00 p.m. on weekends.

RECREATION UPGRADES:

Updates on the Community Recreation Center & Gig Harbor Sports Center

BUILDING SPECS:

- Total campus: 17.23 acres
- 58,000 square foot facility
- 175' x 75' artificial indoor turf field
- Three multi-sport courts—for basketball, pickleball, and volleyball
- Elevated walking track
- Two multi-purpose community spaces
- Art corridor
- Cushman Trail extension of approximately 0.4 miles
- Renovated miniature golf course

Exciting developments are underway for Gig Harbor's recreation scene, with the ongoing construction of two highly anticipated parks that will elevate the community's access to sports and leisure facilities. Both projects are making notable progress, bringing a variety of amenities to meet the community's demand for more recreational facilities.

At the heart of these new projects is the Community Recreation Center (CRC), a cutting-edge facility that promises to be a hub for indoor activities and gatherings. The walls of the main building are now up, a tangible sign of progress toward this state-of-the-art destination. Designed with the community in mind, the CRC will offer an indoor track, multiple sports courts, a turf field, and open spaces dedicated to community events. This center will fill a significant gap in the area by providing a year-round venue for both recreational and social events, setting a new standard for community engagement in Gig Harbor. Residents interested in tracking the CRC's weekly progress can view updates and timelapse footage of the construction on the PenMet Parks website: penmetparks.org/current-projects/community-recreation-center-crc

Gig Harbor Sports Complex

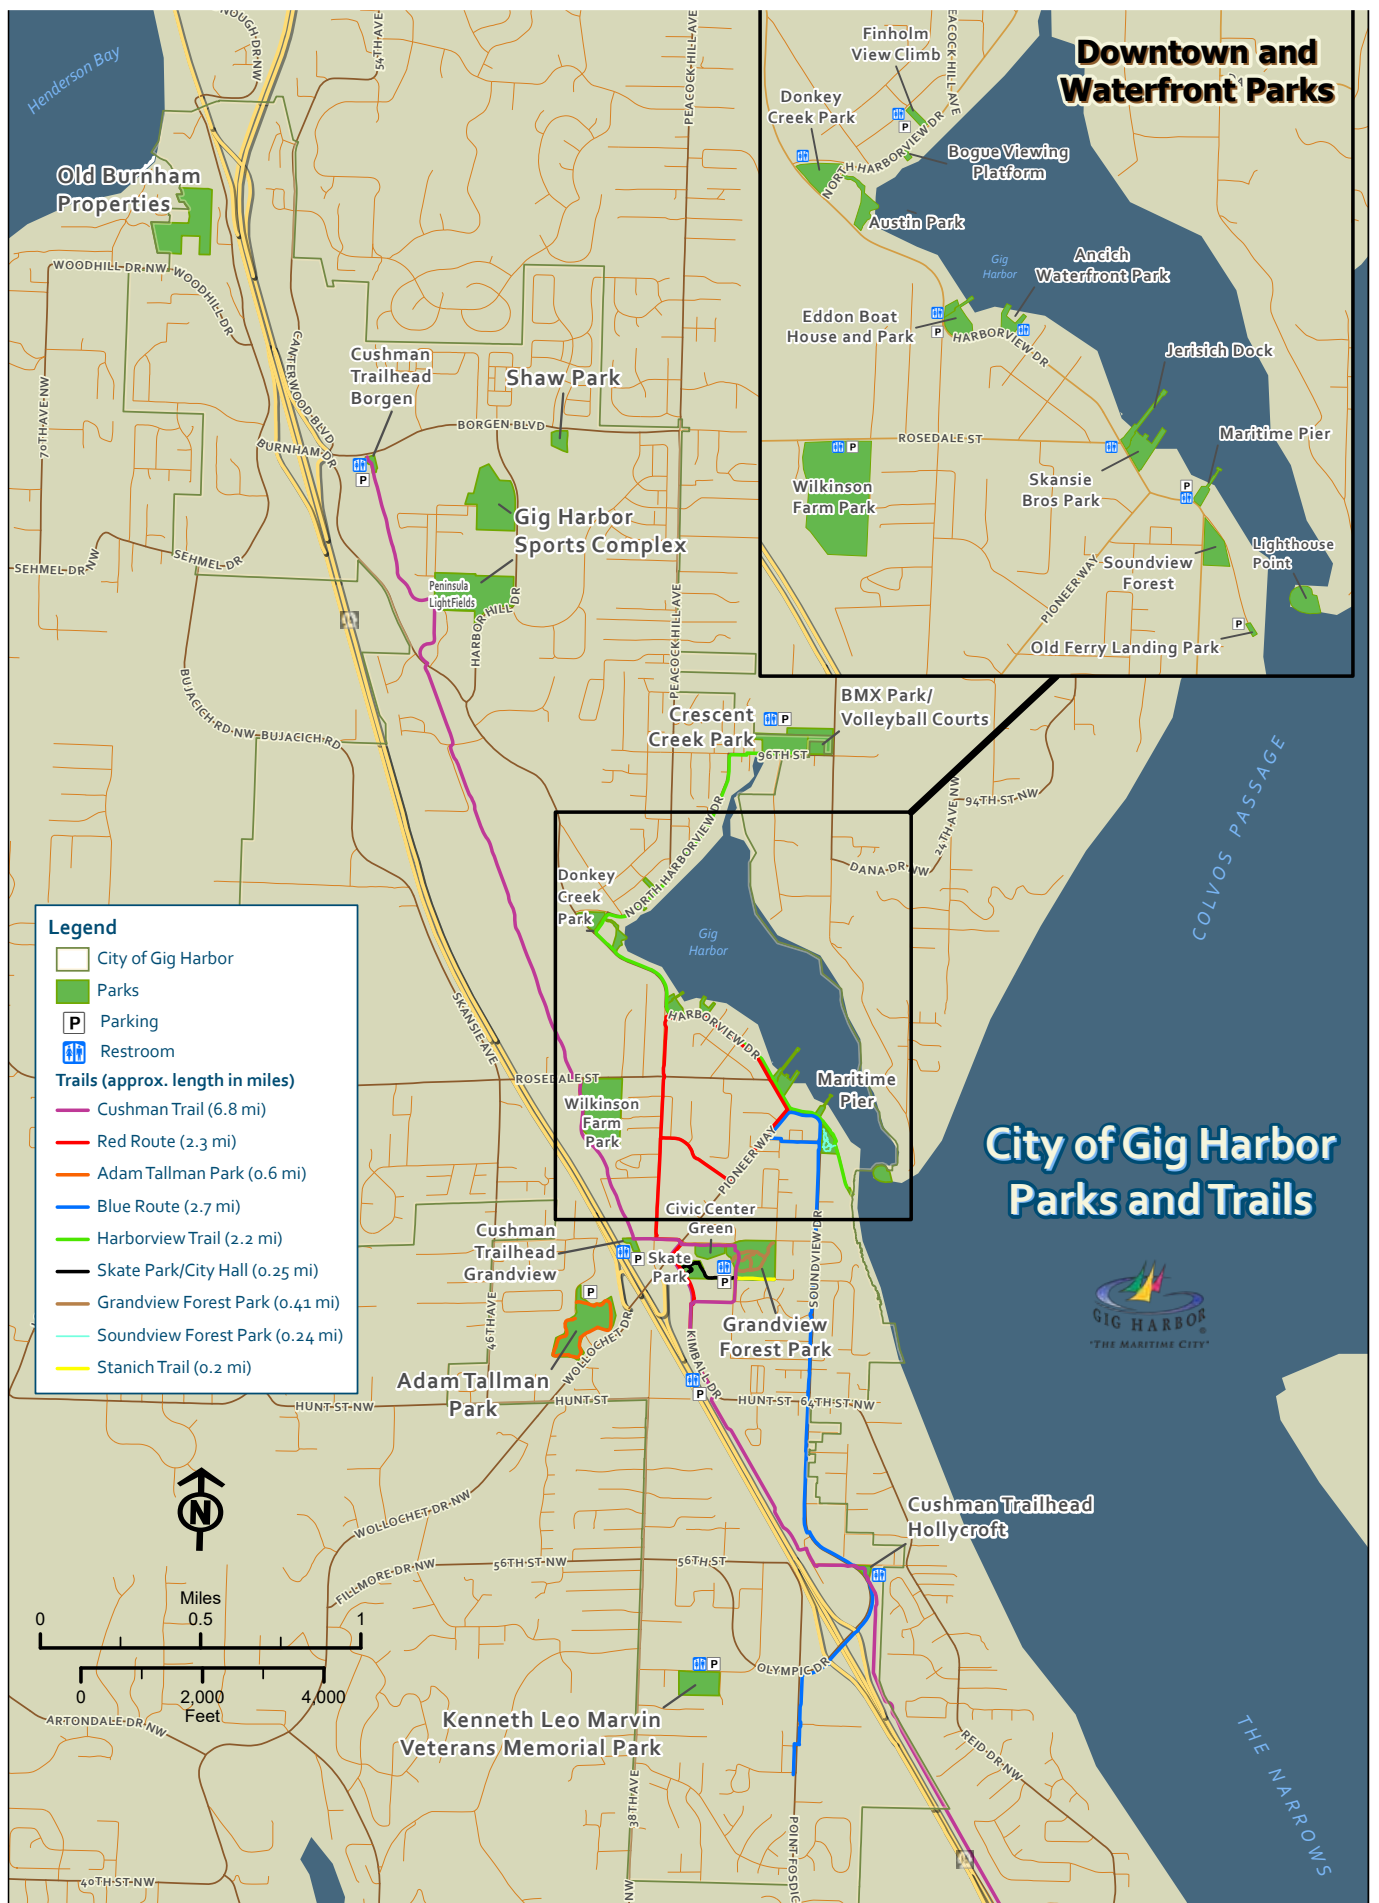

Meanwhile, the Gig Harbor Sports Complex is also moving ahead, bringing much-anticipated outdoor facilities to the community. Development of the Sports Complex has been divided into three phases. Phase 1 has been subdivided into Phase 1a and Phase 1b to be developed by the YMCA and the city, respectively. Phase 1a includes the sports fields designated as A1 and A2. The YMCA is responsible for financing and developing these fields under a lease agreement with the city. The YMCA is still trying to secure donations for construction. If you would like to make a donation toward construction costs, visit ymcapkc.org/give/gig-harbor-sports-complex.

Phase 1b of the sports complex broke ground in spring of 2024 and is expected to open in spring of 2025. Located near the YMCA, this sprawling 30+ acre facility will feature a range of amenities designed to support active lifestyles and community connection. Plans include six fully lit, multisport turf fields suitable for soccer, football, and other sports, ensuring access for families and local sports leagues. The complex will also offer walking trails, multiple playgrounds, and six pickleball courts, enhancing its appeal for residents of all ages.

In addition to athletic facilities, the complex will include a bocce ball court, a performance stage, and ample concessions and restroom facilities, making it a versatile venue for a wide variety of community events. These additions are vital for the growing population of young families in Gig Harbor, providing a modern space for both organized sports and informal recreation.

With these new projects on the horizon, Gig Harbor is rising to meet the needs of its steadily growing populace, promising benefits that will resonate throughout the community for years to come. Keep an eye out for updates on these developments and mark your calendar for spring 2025, when these exciting new spaces are expected to open to the public. ♦

If you have your own boat, Gig Harbor is an exceptional cruising destination, offering plenty of marinas for moorage. Consider docking at Arabella's Landing Marina, Gig Harbor Marina & Boatyard, Harbor Place Marina, or Jerisich Dock, all of which provide excellent facilities for boaters.

Year round you can rent kayaks and SUP through Deadmans Island Kayaks & SUPS. They bring the boats to you and also run guided tours that can take you to Deadman's Island. Adventure awaits at: deadmanskayaksup.com

During the summer months kayaks and SUPS can be rented in Gig Harbor Bay at Lee's SUP. leessup1.com

Finally, don't miss a stroll along Maritime Pier for stunning harbor views or the Fox Island Boat Launch, a scenic spot with easy access for SUPs and kayaks. Remember, parking at Fox Island is limited, so plan your visit accordingly. ♦

Savor the Flavors of Gig Harbor

Get ready to satisfy your appetite in Gig Harbor! This scenic waterfront city boasts a culinary scene that rivals Seattle's, with the added bonus of breathtaking views and a more relaxed pace. From casual bites to gourmet dining experiences, Gig Harbor offers a diverse range of memorable meals for every palate.

Seafood lovers are in for a treat. The city's close proximity to the ocean means daily catches of salmon, halibut, crab, oysters, and clams are always on the menu. Thanks to the cool, clean waters of the Puget Sound, shellfish is always fresh and plentiful.

No trip to Gig Harbor is complete without a visit to the iconic Tides Tavern, famous for its fish and chips, waterfront views, and dockside service for boaters in the summer. For a more upscale experience, indulge in fresh oysters and a glass of crisp Pinot Grigio at Brix 25, where the creative menu and decadent desserts—like crème brûlée—will leave you wanting more.

But there's more than just seafood here! Gig Harbor is surrounded by fertile farmland, producing an abundance of fresh fruits and vegetables. Local restaurants embrace this bounty, crafting menus that showcase the best of the region's seasonal ingredients. Table 47 offers a farm-to-table experience, featuring locally sourced dishes that celebrate the flavors of the Pacific Northwest. At Morso Bistro, diners can savor European-inspired cuisine, with a focus on fresh, local produce. Just across the street, another Gig Harbor icon, Anthony's, serves up some of the best of the region's seafood fare. Looking for delectable breakfast? Check out either Devoted Kiss or Net Shed No. 9—both on the waterfront.

For those with a sweet tooth or craving a casual meal, Gig Harbor's cafes, bakeries, and pubs have you covered. Start your day with a perfectly brewed cappuccino and freshly baked pastry at Kimball Coffeehouse or Suzanne's downtown. Treat yourself to a box of indulgent Crumbl Cookies, or grab a seat at Hy lu Hee Hee, a beloved local pub known for its extensive tap list and the best wings in town.

No matter what you're craving, Gig Harbor's vibrant food scene is ready to impress. From fresh seafood to locally grown produce, every bite is a celebration of the region's culinary abundance. ♦

Waterfront Farmers Market

In a place as abundant and scenic as Washington, few summer activities are as rewarding as visiting a farmers market.

Whether you're on the hunt for sweet berries, locally crafted honey, pasture-raised meats, or unique handmade crafts, the Waterfront Farmers Market, from June through mid-September, offers a perfect snapshot of the Pacific Northwest's richness.

Every Thursday during the summer months, the market transforms Gig Harbor's Skansie Brothers Park into a vibrant community hub. Set against the backdrop of the harbor, this market has been a beloved tradition for over a decade, showcasing the region's freshest produce, local wines, artisan cheeses, and creative crafts. With 85 percent of the vendors offering food products, it's not only a great way to connect with local growers, but also an ideal place to stock up on groceries.

A couple of years ago, the market added a playful twist with weekly themes like Crazy Hat Day, Pirate Day, and Military and First Responders Day, creating a fun, family-friendly atmosphere. As plans for 2025 unfold, expect more exciting themes that make every visit feel like a new adventure. Visitors often find themselves lingering for hours, enjoying picnics and live music, all while soaking in the harbor views.

If you're planning a trip, gather the family, bring a picnic blanket, and make a day of it. And don't be surprised to spot kayaks and paddleboards—nearly a quarter of visitors paddle in from the water! ♦

Gig Harbor's shared interest in good food and drink brings friends together and hosts business meetings. It is where good conversation and great deals are made over cups of coffee, creative menu selections, and delightful desserts. Gig Harborites are blessed with a backyard full of the Northwest's tasty farm-to-table produce and a fabulous variety of fresh seafood. For some, the Gig Harbor food scene is a lifestyle—a way of life that embraces the homemade, the local, and the sustainable. Organic ingredients, handmade recipes, and fresh seafood are the standards that make this an amazing wine and foodie town. ♦

Green.House

Green.House Restaurant, located in Gig Harbor's Uptown district, is known for its commitment to fresh, seasonal ingredients and creative dishes. Offering a welcoming and sophisticated atmosphere, Green.House blends contemporary dining with a relaxed Pacific Northwest charm, making it the perfect spot for both casual meals and special occasions.

The restaurant prides itself on its farm-to-table approach, sourcing locally whenever possible. The ever-evolving menu highlights the region's bounty, featuring fresh seafood, high-quality meats, and locally grown produce. Diners can expect a thoughtful selection of appetizers, salads, and entrees that capture the vibrant flavors of the Pacific Northwest.

Owners Erik and Krystle Smith purchased the Green.House (yes, written with period between "Green" and "House") from its previous owners in 2021. Not wanting to make any unnecessary changes to what was already a good thing with a valued reputation in the Gig Harbor community, they elected to keep the name.

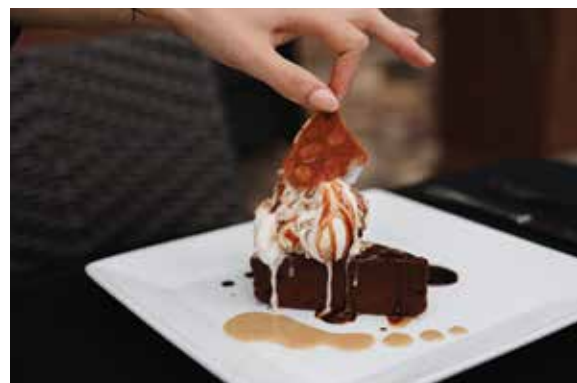

Erik, a Bremerton native and Cordon Bleu graduate, says, "One of the biggest values we focus on as a company is providing exceptional dining experiences to our customers, and exceeding expectations for their special occasions." He notes that while his particular specialty is preparing food, Krystle's influence is felt in the restaurant's extensive menus of beer, wine, and cocktails. "It is her creative flair all over the dining room as well!" Erik adds.

Years of experience back up both Erik and Krystle's expertise: Krystle has been in the restaurant business since she was 18, and Erik since he was 14. Both were mentored under the tutelage of celebrity chef Kent Rathbun, of Iron Chef fame. The couple met while working at Rathbun's fine dining restaurant, Jasper's Gourmet Backyard Cuisine, in The Woodlands, Texas, and eventually married and made their way to Gig Harbor.

The couple exudes positivity toward the Gig Harbor community and the privilege they feel in serving it. "We love the small-town, friendly feel of Gig Harbor," says Krystle. "It's a beautiful town with big-city expectations for quality food. It's tough competition, but we aim to be the best restaurant in town!"

Washington is renowned for its winemaking industry—it's the second most prolific wine-producing state in the nation—as well as its culture of wine tasting. Even better: Gig Harbor in particular is home to some of the best wineries and tasting rooms in the state!

All about Wine

There's something here for every wine lover, whether you choose to wander the bucolic oasis of Olalla Vineyard and Winery, pick up a bottle or two at Morso Wine Market on your way to a party, or toast the weekend with a glass of bubbly and the sound of a record player at Cuvée Wine and Vinyl Bar.

In 2024, two exciting new wine establishments opened in the heart of Gig Harbor: Hidden Harbor Wine Library and Gig Harbor Wine Co.

A family-owned business, Hidden Harbor Wine Library is a veritable treasure trove of Washington's very best wines—and they focus on sourcing vintages from small businesses, so you're sure to find something new here. The cozy nook of a tasting room is designed to make patrons feel at home with its comfy seating, timeless décor, and picture-perfect views of the harbor. In addition to a glass of wine, enjoy some of their small bites, available onsite, or bring in takeout from one of the many excellent restaurants nearby.

Gig Harbor Wine Co. is a new tasting room on Kimball Drive that showcases the wines of husband-and-wife team Robin and Ben Egeland. Their new tasting room offers flights, single-glass pours, bottles to go, and yearly wine club subscriptions, as well as local beers and small bites. Every wine you'll taste here is made with grapes from Washington's most celebrated American Viticultural Areas. Families and pets are welcome here, so bring the gang and post up with a glass of Netshed Red while the kids take advantage of the coloring book collection and snack packs! ♦

NEW!

Coffee at Heritage Distilling Co.

With five tasting rooms across Washington and Oregon, Heritage Distilling Company is the largest independently owned craft distillery in the Pacific Northwest and the most awarded craft distillery in North America. Since 2011, Heritage has been producing an ever-growing line of award-winning whiskeys, gins, vodkas, and rums made with PNW-sourced ingredients.

Heritage's stellar lineup of spirits can be found in restaurants all over the continent, but the heart of the distillery is best experienced at their flagship waterfront location in downtown Gig Harbor. Open all day, seven days a week, Heritage's waterfront location is a prime place for locals and visitors alike to pop in and shop for bottles or linger over spirit flights, light bites, and innovative, seasonal cocktails that strike the perfect balance between cutting-edge and accessible. Savor their always-popular fig old fashioned, try a smoked pomegranate paloma, or indulge in an expertly balanced mocktail. Better yet, dive into the world of craft distilling by building your own custom flight of the spirit of your choice.

Early riser? You're in luck: in April 2024, Heritage's Gig Harbor tasting room expanded their offerings to include coffee and espresso from Endicott Coffee, a well-known Tacoma roaster, as well as a curated selection of muffins and doughnuts. Stop by in the morning for your daily latte and return later for an espresso martini: you'll find a whole section of their menu devoted to coffee-inspired cocktails!

Whether Heritage Distilling is your favorite after-work haunt, your go-to spirits retailer, or your morning coffee pitstop, this is a place where you'll enjoy becoming a regular. Keep your eyes peeled for their weekday specials, such as Military Mondays, which offers $5 cocktails for those who serve in the armed forces, and Whiskey Wednesdays, where whiskey cocktails are discounted and bottles are 20% off! ♦

For the Love of Spice:

A Flavorful Journey in Gig Harbor

For the Love of Spice, a delightful haven for food enthusiasts and home cooks alike, has made its mark on the culinary landscape of Gig Harbor. This unique store specializes in custom-designed and hand-packed herb and spice seasoning blends, catering to a wide range of tastes and dietary needs.

Its story began with a simple love for cooking and sharing good food with others. Owner Windy Payne discovered her passion for creating flavorful seasoning blends while selling her creations at the local Farmer's Market. Since then, she has been on a mission to enrich the flavors of people's lives, one spice blend at a time.

Windy says, "Most people's memories are surrounded by food or incorporate food in some way or another. On special occasions, we don't always remember the gifts we received; we're more likely to remember who we were with and the food that we ate! I love being a part of helping create those memories for my customers."

Windy's goal is to offer customers the ability to cook delicious and nutritious meals filled with flavor and a hint of "Wow!" Committed to maintaining the purity and quality of its products, For the Love of Spice does not add fillers or preservatives to any of its herb and spice seasonings. All blends are gluten-free, and can be special ordered to meet individual preferences or dietary restrictions. Each herb and spice blend comes in a distinctive, re-usable tin with recipe pages to inspire and guide the culinary journey of its users.

For the Love of Spice also boasts 84 different blends of loose-leaf teas, procured from top-quality distributors and packaged on site, as well as a variety of bagged teas. Additionally, customers can enjoy the infused olive oil and balsamic vinegar bar for a taste or, hopefully, to take bottles of their favorite blends to go. Most recently, the shop has added a wine bar with a small bites menu; customers can enjoy a glass of wine and snack at a table or while they shop in the well-stocked gift shop offering a robust selection of food and gift items.

With its unique approach and a commitment to quality, this store has become a must-visit destination for anyone seeking to enrich their culinary experiences and bring a touch of "Wow!" to their meals.

RELOCATE

Consider Gig Harbor

Gig Harbor has often been called a “hidden gem” in the Pacific Northwest’s Puget Sound, offering an ideal blend of natural beauty, business opportunities, and a warm, welcoming community for all ages, walks, and seasons of life.

Aesthetics alone are a major draw: with the Puget Sound, the nearby Cascade and Olympic Mountain ranges, and lush evergreen forests, the area boasts breathtaking scenery at every turn. Whether you’re out for a peaceful walk along the waterfront or enjoying a day in of the many parks, the town’s connection to nature is undeniable.

Residents and visitors alike take full advantage of the area’s year-round outdoor activities. The moderate Pacific Northwest climate—with cool summers and mild winters—makes it easy to enjoy the outdoors no matter the season. From hiking the nearby Cushman Trail to exploring local parks, the abundance of natural beauty makes every day an adventure.

Beyond its scenic appeal, Gig Harbor offers a thriving business environment. Conveniently located near both Tacoma and Seattle, the town provides an opportunity to experience the charm of a smaller community while staying connected to larger urban centers. Entrepreneurs and business owners benefit from the town’s strategic location and strong local economy. A wide range of industries, including healthcare, tourism, and technology, contribute to Gig Harbor’s growth. The Gig Harbor Chamber of Commerce and local government are committed to supporting both new ventures and established businesses with resources and networking opportunities to ensure long-term success.

For those considering relocating to Gig Harbor, the local real estate market offers a variety of options, with affordable housing available in multiple forms. (Visit the Neighborhood section on page 84 for an overview of Gig Harbor’s main residential areas.)

For families with children and teens, Gig Harbor is renowned for its strong sense of community, sports and activities, and excellent schools. The Peninsula School District is known for its high academic standards and comprehensive programs that encourage student achievement. The area also boasts excellent private schools and access to higher education institutions, such as the University of Washington's Tacoma campus, Pacific Lutheran University, and the University of Puget Sound—all located a short drive away—and a campus of Tacoma Community College right here in Gig Harbor.

Retirees will find in Gig Harbor the perfect combination of tranquility, active living, and healthcare accessibility. Away from the hustle and bustle of larger urban environments, one can find a vast variety of recreational, entertainment, and volunteering opportunities, as well as art and culture—making it an ideal place to enjoy retirement. And, with plenty of medical facilities, including top-rated hospitals, retirees can find comfort and security while staying active and engaged in the community.

For those considering relocating to Gig Harbor, the local real estate market offers a variety of options

Gig Harbor's natural beauty, strong local economy, quality education system, and welcoming atmosphere make it a perfect destination for individuals, families, and businesses alike. Whether you're looking for outdoor adventure, business opportunities, or simply a peaceful place to live, Gig Harbor offers a unique and vibrant lifestyle that is hard to find anywhere else. ♦

NEIGHBORHOODS

Gig Harbor offers a variety of neighborhoods that cater to different lifestyles, making it an ideal destination for anyone seeking to relocate. Whether you're a young professional, raising a family, enjoying retirement, or looking to expand your business, each neighborhood has its own unique character and appeal. Here's a look at some of the top areas to consider when choosing your new home in this scenic Pacific Northwest town.

For those looking for modern conveniences and nearby amenities, neighborhoods like Harbor Hill, Gig Harbor North, and Downtown Gig Harbor are excellent choices. Harbor Hill is a newer community featuring a mix of townhomes, condominiums, and single-family houses, all within walking distance of shops, restaurants, and recreational facilities. The area's easy access to Highway 16 makes it a convenient spot for commuters heading to Tacoma or Seattle.

Gig Harbor North is a rapidly growing area, ideal for professionals seeking newer homes with modern features. This neighborhood is filled with parks, schools, medical facilities, and retail outlets, creating a complete, self-contained community. For those who prefer the charm of an older, walkable neighborhood with waterfront views, Downtown Gig Harbor (also known as Old Town) offers a mix of historic homes and easy access to restaurants, shops, and cultural attractions. It's a lively, picturesque area that provides convenience alongside Gig Harbor's signature charm.

Families relocating to Gig Harbor will find several neighborhoods that offer the safety, strong schools, and community-focused environment they seek. Artondale is one of the top choices, known for its quiet streets, large yards, and excellent proximity to the top-rated schools of the Peninsula School District. Parents love the easy access to parks and recreational spaces, making Artondale a haven for families with young children.

Another family-friendly neighborhood is Peacock Hill, which balances suburban living with convenient access to local services and shopping, including the Tom Taylor YMCA. Whether you're looking for a single-family home or a condo, Peacock Hill offers a range of housing options to suit different needs and budgets. Similarly, families also flock to Point Fosdick, a neighborhood that features beautiful waterfront views, spacious homes, and access to shopping, parks, and recreation facilities.

For those who want to immerse themselves in Gig Harbor's natural beauty, neighborhoods like Wollochet Bay, Crescent Valley, and Sunrise Beach are perfect for outdoor enthusiasts. Wollochet Bay offers waterfront homes with stunning views and access to the bay, perfect for kayaking, boating, or simply enjoying peaceful water views. Its a neighborhood that brings nature to your doorstep while keeping you close to local amenities.

Gig Harbor's diverse neighborhoods ensure there's something for everyone. Crescent Valley, with its rural atmosphere and large properties, is ideal for those seeking more space and privacy. It's a quiet, secluded area where residents can enjoy outdoor activities like gardening or simply relaxing in the natural surroundings. Sunrise Beach offers breathtaking views of Mount Rainier and the Puget Sound, including nearby Vashon Island. Known for its peaceful atmosphere and proximity to hiking trails and beaches, it's a dream destination for those who love to be outdoors.

For those seeking upscale living, neighborhoods like Canterwood and Horsehead Bay stand out. Canterwood is a gated, luxury community featuring a private golf course, country club, and an array of amenities, including tennis courts, an equestrian stable, and fitness facilities. With its grand homes and secure, tranquil environment, it attracts residents who desire a high-end lifestyle. Horsehead Bay, with its waterfront homes and scenic views, is another desirable neighborhood for those seeking luxury and privacy, combined with a sense of community.

For those interested in a more secluded and tranquil lifestyle, Fox Island and Raft Island—both accessed by bridges—offer island living just outside Gig Harbor's city limits. Fox Island provides a laid-back, waterfront environment with beautiful views and a strong sense of privacy. While the island feels remote, it's conveniently connected to the mainland, making it a great choice for anyone seeking peace without sacrificing accessibility. Similarly, Raft Island is a small, private island with waterfront homes and a tight-knit community. Its beaches and walkability make it perfect for those who enjoy living close to nature.

Gig Harbor also offers several neighborhoods ideal for retirees, including Sylvia Lake and Rosedale. Sylvia Lake's lakeside community provides a tranquil environment, perfect for those seeking peace and relaxation. Rosedale, with its rural charm and larger properties, offers a slower pace of life. The scenic surroundings and peaceful atmosphere make it a great place to enjoy "country living."

Gig Harbor's diverse neighborhoods ensure there's something for everyone. Explore the town's unique areas, and you'll find the ideal place to call home in this beautiful harbor town. Whether you're looking for modern convenience, family-friendly amenities, waterfront living, or a peaceful retreat, Gig Harbor has the perfect neighborhood to suit your lifestyle. ♦ belong to the Peninsula School District (PSD), recognized as one of Washington State's most innovative and high-performing districts. In the latest academic year, PSD achieved testing averages that placed it in the top 5% of public schools statewide.

The Greater Gig Harbor area and Key Peninsula proudly

EDUCATION

Serving around 9,000 students across 17 schools, PSD boasts four newly built or expanded elementary schools—Swift Water, Artondale, Pioneer, and Evergreen—each featuring cutting-edge facilities, completed in 2022. The district has also recently modernized Kopachuck and Key Peninsula Middle Schools to accommodate a growing student population and enhance safety across campuses.

The district's Strategic Plan for 2022–2026 aims to “inspire and empower every child, every day,” emphasizing core values such as excellence, character, confidence, curiosity, and culture. By promoting these ideals, PSD is committed to fostering excellence among both staff and students.

PSD includes three high schools: Gig Harbor, Peninsula, and Henderson Bay, each offering a variety of Advanced Placement (AP) courses and college-level classes through Tacoma Community College's Running Start program. Students benefit from a robust secondary curriculum that includes athletic programs, fine arts options, and extracurricular activities designed to foster intellectual growth and leadership skills.

Another noteworthy aspect of Gig Harbor's education system is its dedication to supporting students with special needs.

Recently, PSD and the Peninsula Metropolitan Park District (PenMet Parks) cooperatively developed an interlocal agreement that went into effect in July of 2024. This partnership allows PSD and PenMet Parks to work together jointly to increase community use and development of our local facilities and open spaces. "Our students and families win when we form strong community partnerships," said PSD Superintendent Krestin Bahr.

Another noteworthy aspect of Gig Harbor's education system is its dedication to supporting students with special needs. The Special Education Parent Advisory Committee (SEPAC) was established last year to enhance educational opportunities for these students, ensuring they reach their full potential. The district also offers a Community Transition Program tailored for young adults (ages 18–21) as they move into post-high school life, focusing on work skills, personal management, and community engagement.

To explore more about the Peninsula School District, including academic offerings, school profiles, boundary maps, and enrolment information, visit psd401.net.

Private Schools and Colleges

In addition to public schooling, Gig Harbor hosts eight private schools, catering to over 1,000 students. These institutions offer a range of educational philosophies, including Christian, Catholic, and Montessori options for children from preschool through high school. The private schools in the area consistently rank in the top 20% across Washington State.

For many high school graduates and adults seeking further education, Tacoma Community College serves as a popular choice, with campuses located in Gig Harbor and across the Narrows in Tacoma. It provides an accessible pathway for those looking to continue, resume, or complete their education. Moreover, several accredited higher education institutions are within commuting distance, including Bates Technical College, Clover Park Technical College, Faith International University, Olympic College, Pierce College, University of Puget Sound, Pacific Lutheran University, and the University of Washington Tacoma, offering a variety of options for those wishing to advance their studies close to home. ♦

Introducing PSD's New AVIATION ACADEMY

Looking to the future, PSD is poised to launch its highly anticipated Aviation Academy, providing students with a pathway to explore careers in the aviation industry. This innovative program will leverage partnerships with local aviation companies and institutions, further expanding the district's commitment to preparing students for success in the 21st century.

Carlos Santa Maria/stock.adobe.com

In partnership with the Museum of Flight and Tacoma Narrows Airport, the academy will provide high school juniors and seniors with hands-on learning opportunities in the aeronautical sciences, preparing them for FAA certification and careers in aviation.

This cutting-edge program addresses the growing need for aviation professionals in Washington state. Students will have the opportunity to engage in classroom instruction, simulator training, and practical experiences through local flight schools. The Aviation Academy will offer courses such as Private Pilot Ground School, Drone Operations, and Aviation Weather, providing an accelerated pathway to high-paying careers in aviation.

"This program is a game-changer for our students," said Kelsey Parke, Director of Career and Technical Education (CTE) for Peninsula School District. "We are equipping students with industry-relevant skills that will open doors to high-demand aviation careers while providing an exceptional, hands-on learning experience. Our students will leave prepared to make an impact in this field."

More information about the Aviation Academy lottery enrollment process will be available at the start of 2025. Learn more at www.psd401.net/aviationacademy.

Starting or Relocating Your Business in Gig Harbor

Deciding where to plant your business is a decision that involves a meticulous consideration of various factors.

From market analysis to regulatory environments, infrastructure, accessibility, and workforce availability, every aspect plays a crucial role. Gig Harbor has emerged as an attractive destination for businesses, offering a unique blend of advantages that cater to the diverse needs of their owners. Katrina Knutson, the City Administrator, notes, “Streamlining municipal operations not only enhances efficiency but becomes the catalyst for sustainable growth, attracting businesses and creating a thriving community for all.”

One key factor contributing to the appeal of Gig Harbor is the presence of our active Chamber of Commerce passionately advocating for businesses. This proactive support system can significantly ease the transition for relocating businesses, providing valuable insights and assistance throughout the process.

Strategically located in proximity to two thriving port communities, Bremerton and Tacoma, Gig Harbor stands out as a strategic business hub. Bremerton, hosting the Naval shipyard, and Tacoma, a major trade port with $447 million in exports and $3.77 billion in imports, offer unparalleled opportunities for businesses engaged in maritime and trade activities.

Accessibility is another noteworthy advantage. Gig Harbor boasts the convenience of being within an hour's reach of SeaTac Airport and the state capital in Olympia. This strategic positioning is further enhanced by Highway 16, which runs through the community, providing direct access to Interstate 5 and facilitating seamless transportation and distribution networks.

The reliability of utilities and services in the greater Gig Harbor area is a testament to the region's commitment to supporting businesses. Award-winning services with a solid track record ensure that businesses can operate smoothly without disruptions, contributing to a conducive environment for growth and sustainability.

For businesses seeking suitable spaces, Gig Harbor offers a diverse range of options, including office, manufacturing, and warehouse spaces. This flexibility allows businesses to find the perfect fit for their operations, promoting efficiency and productivity.

Gig Harbor boasts the convenience of being within an hour's reach of SeaTac Airport and the state capital in Olympia.

A motivated and engaged workforce is a crucial asset for any business, and Gig Harbor takes pride in its community-oriented workforce. The sense of community involvement among the workforce contributes to a positive working environment, fostering productivity and employee satisfaction.

Education is a key consideration for businesses looking to attract and retain top talent. Gig Harbor's excellent school district, highly rated and committed to producing well-rounded students, ensures that businesses have access to a pool of skilled and educated professionals.

Beyond the business landscape, Gig Harbor offers an outstanding quality of life for families. The presence of active parks districts, a well-equipped hospital, and access to water and snow sports contribute to a balanced and fulfilling lifestyle for residents and employees alike.

Want to Learn More?

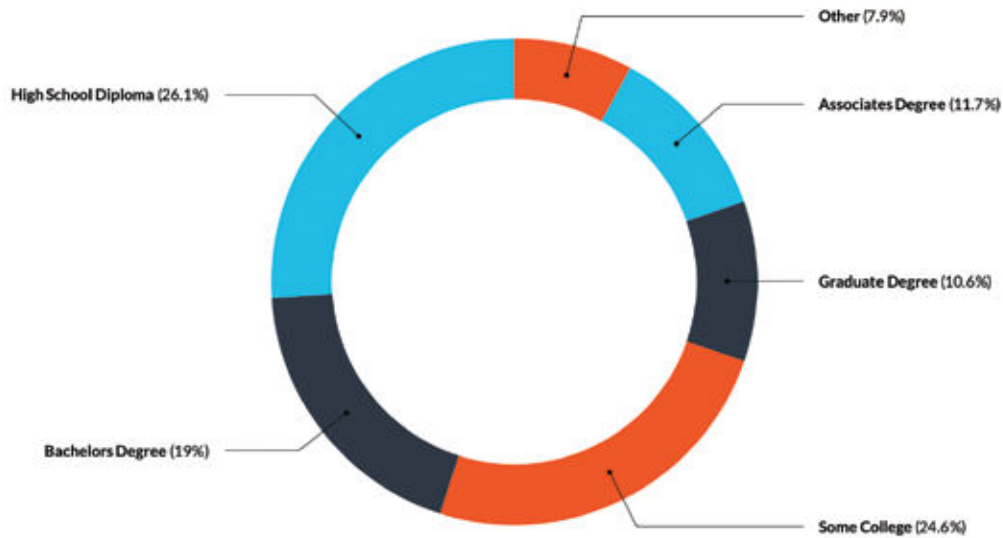

The efforts of the City to facilitate the relocation process for interested business owners positions is another reason Gig Harbor is a prime choice for businesses looking to unlock new opportunities and achieve sustainable growth. Knutson says, "Our commitment to continuous process improvement is the cornerstone of fostering a vibrant local economy." The city makes good on this commitment: for those considering Gig Harbor as their new home—or for existing businesses seeking a new location—the city encourages a free meeting with city staff to discuss their plans and potential locations. The free 30-minute meeting, called a "Business Assistance Meeting" (BAM), is a valuable opportunity to pitch ideas, align business goals with city regulations and processes, and "eliminate some of the regulatory mystery," as Knutson points out. With up to two of these meetings, the City's goal is to streamline the permitting process, making it as smooth and efficient as possible.
